

[The 6th Colloquium]

SSK Research Group:

Politics of Immigration: Diversity, Coexistence and Social Integration

Public demand for police discrimination: How misperceptions drive support for biased policing in Japan

Date and Time Thursday, November 20,
16:00-18:00

Venue Small Theater, B2, 4.18 Memorial Hall,
Korea University

Speaker

YOSHIKUNI ONO

Professor of Political Science at Waseda University

Yoshikuni Ono is Professor of Political Science at Waseda University and Faculty Fellow at the Research Institute of Economy, Trade and Industry. He received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Michigan in 2010 and previously held positions at Tohoku University and the International University of Japan, as well as visiting appointments at the University of Wisconsin–Madison and Kochi University of Technology. His research focuses on political behavior, gender and politics, representation, immigration, and parliamentary democracy, with an emphasis on Japan in comparative perspective. His work has appeared in academic journals such as the American Journal of Political Science, Journal of Politics, Political Science Research and Methods, and Political Behavior, and has been featured in media including The Asahi Shimbun, Kyodo News, The Washington Post, and the BBC.